CSP 6970:PRACTICUM

SPRING SEMESTER 2025

OPHELIA IVY MENSAH

STUDENT ATHLETES SERVICES

MEGHAN HORN

AGENDA

- Summary of Experience
- Resume Text
- Assessment of Goals
- Evaluation of Competencies
- Reflection on Supervisors Evaluation
- Artifacts
- References

SUMMARY OF EXPERIENCE

- Gained hands-on experience supporting student-athletes academically
- Strengthened my ability to support students navigating multiple responsibilities
- Applied student development theory to real-world advising situations
- Gained insight into NCAA regulations and how they impact advising and student support
- Understood campus systems and how different departments collaborate.

RESUME SUMMARY OF EXPERIENCE

- Gained a comprehensive understanding of National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) regulations and their role in supporting student-athletes' academic and professional achievements.
- Collaborated with a professional academic advisor in providing one-on-one advice to student-athletes, focusing on their academic success, time management, and eligibility requirements.
- Provided a distinctive viewpoint as an international student during staff meetings to improve support strategies for international student-athletes, fostering diversity and inclusion within the office.

RESUME SUMMARY OF EXPERIENCE

- Designed event programming outline, acquiring practical experience in the strategies and reasoning involved in designing and implementing events that enhance student involvement and promote community building.

- Developed a strong understanding of student development theories and their practical application in a collegiate athletic environment subheading

ASSESSMENT OF GOALS

- Understand the Student-Athlete Environment

High

- Understood how student-athletes balance academics, athletics, and limited social life.
- Gained knowledge of support structures put in place to support and awareness of the unique challenges faced by international student-athletes.

- Build Competence in Advising and Supporting

Medium

- Most of my time was spent shadowing session rather than practicing direct advising with students.
- Although, I observed different advising styles and strategies, I had limited opportunities to engage in hands-on advising myself.
- The heavy emphasis on observation helped me build foundational understanding, but it did not yet allow me to fully develop my own advising skills.

ASSESSMENT OF GOALS

- Understand Athletes Policies and Regulations

Low

- I gained a foundational understanding of the policies, regulations, and conduct that student-athletes must follow to maintain eligibility.
- While I now understand the basic framework, I recognize that policies are dynamic and continuously evolving due to changes in the political environment.
- I have not yet mastered the deeper nuances or ongoing updates in the field, but with continued practice and exposure, I believe I can build higher competence over time.

- Track and Reflect on Competency Development

Medium

- Gained new experience in law, policy, and governance and reflected on advising strategies by connecting some of the advising work to relevant student development theories. Throughout the experience, I intentionally reviewed how my learning aligned with key competencies and noted areas for future growth.

PROFESSIONAL COMPETENCIES

Advising and Supporting

- I initially observed advising sessions led by my supervisor. I focused on inclusive communication by listening actively, paraphrasing, and asking questions.
- Over time, I gained confidence and began conducting one-on-one advising sessions on my own.
- I helped track and set academic goals, navigate challenges, and access campus resources.
- I learned how to adjust my approach depending on the student's communication style, background, and current stress level.

PROFESSIONAL COMPETENCIES

Law, Policy & Governance

- I became familiar with NCAA eligibility rules, and institutional policies that impact how we serve student-athletes.
- I reviewed documents related to compliance and sat in meetings where staff discussed cases that required knowledge of legal boundaries.
- These experiences taught me how decisions are made not only with student needs in mind but also with accountability to policy, law, and ethical standards.

PROFESSIONAL COMPETENCIES

Student Learning & Development

- I applied Sanford's Challenge and Support Theory and Schlossberg's Transition Theory to understand how student-athletes develop academically, socially, and personally.
- I observed how advisors used these theories in practice, balancing academic expectations with emotional support and helping students navigate transitions like college , new country or managing athletic pressure.
- These observations deepened my understanding of how theory shapes student support in real-life settings.
- I reflected on how my identity as an international student helped me connect with students navigating identity, transition, and pressure.

REFLECTION ON SUPERVISORS EVALUATION

Strength	Area for Growth	Growth Strategies
Grew into a more confident communicator.	Continue building confidence to speak up and participate more in meetings.	Set a personal goal to contribute verbally at every meeting.
Successfully connected with international student-athlete, showing strong interpersonal skills.	Gain deeper and more independent advising experience with student-athletes.	Request additional opportunities to advise students directly and document sessions.
Expanded knowledge of transfer evaluation processes and transcript analysis.	Strengthen comprehensive understanding of NCAA compliance policies.	Volunteer to lead a project
Learned and summarized NCAA compliance rules	Take initiative to lead projects and manage tasks more independently.	Continuous studying and practicing NCAA rules
Quick learner with an approachable and relatable personality.	Build professional skills for working formally with international student programming.
Demonstrated ability to support and assist with student project

ARTIFACTS

https://falconbgsu-my.sharepoint.com/:f:/g/personal/ophelim_bgsu_edu/EiQjnmZVMBZOhgS9Eou53WcBJY8_V2LtmIf51vBFzgtCjA?e=jbq6U6

REFERENCE

ACPA & NASPA. (2015). ACPA/NASPA professional competency areas for student affairs practitioners. Washington, DC: Authors

THANK YOU